PAKISTAN SEY PARIS CLIMATE CONFERENCE

PAKISTAN YOUTH
PARLIAMENT FOR WATER
(PYPW)

OCTOBER 2015

The aim of the event is to reach one of the goals "lima-Paris action agenda" to create a sustainable partnership between civil society, local authorities and private sector together with government in order to find and implement solutions to mitigate or adapt to climate change. Showcasing "Made in Pakistan" solutions to tackle climate change will be one of the objectives of the forum.

The two-days forum "Pakistan Sey Paris: on the road to 2015 Paris Climate Conference" concluded on 14th October 2015, which set the stage for Pakistan's preparation to the upcoming COP21 Climate Change Conference being held in Paris (France) in December this year in December.

The forum, at Al-hamra, Lahore, gathered more than 600 people from government, academia, civil society, students, Pakistan Youth Parliamentarian for Water (PYPW), private sector, media and the general public. The event is also financially supported by a few public and private companies that are committed to tackling climate change.
