

MY WORK
IS WATER

2016 is the year of Water and Jobs and GWOPA is collecting testimonies from water and sanitation operators on what working on in this sector means to them. What are the challenges? How can, and do, WOPs help make operators' jobs better?

IS WATER

“WOPs go beyond technical knowledge. It’s about changing the spirit of the staff.”

J. Hendriati Bahar, Head Non-revenue Water Unit,
PDAM Tirta Raharja

"ONEA is working to diffuse the knowledge it has gained internally by having those trained train others. Knowledge needs to be seized by people, if not, it is useless"

Moumouni Sawadogo, Director of Operations, ONEA

MY WORK
IS WATER

"The management has been very supportive in our learning process."

Nanise Lanqere, Hydraulic Modelle, Water Authority Fiji

IS WATER

"The impact of such partnerships is sometimes hard to isolate, but the sustainability, the continued requests by mentees for support and the frequency of interaction are clear signs of success."

Jawad Hilali, Manager of Cooperation, ONEE
